In Islamic theology, the compromise between rationalism and traditionalism (using both terms as defined in the introduction) can be shown on the basis of two versions. In the first, reason and Tradition constitute separate tools, each responsible for the knowledge of certain religious principles.

Islamic Theology: Traditionalism and Rationalism on JSTOR

Traditionalist theology is an Islamic scholarly movement, originating in the late 8th century CE, who reject rationalistic Islamic theology in favor of strict textualism in interpreting the Quran and hadith. The name derives from "tradition" in its technical sense as a translation of the Arabic word hadith. It is also sometimes referred to by several other names. Adherents of traditionalist theology believe the zahir meaning of the Qur'an and the hadith are the sole authorities in matters of belief.
