PhET Simulation: The Ramp - compadre.org. You can control ramp angle, friction, and magnitude of force. Choose from different objects to run up the ramp: a box, a dog, a piano, and more. As students move objects of varying mass up an incline, they can adjust the angle of the ramp, friction, and applied force.

Answers To The Ramp Phet Lab

PhET Simulation: The Ramp, published by the PhET. In this simulation, students push common items of varying masses up an incline to explore the relationship of applied force, work, and energy. They control the angle of the ramp, friction, and amount of applied force. With a mouse click, they can also view detailed graphs of work and energy.

The Ramp (and Friction) PhET Simulation Lab. Introduction: When an object is dragged across a horizontal surface, the force of friction that must be overcome depends on the normal force as $F_f = \mu F_n$ and the normal force is given by $F_n = F_g$. When the surface becomes an inclined plane, the normal force changes and when the normal force changes, so does the friction.
